Application Assessment

You will be informed of the outcome of your application within 10 business days. A change of provider will not be granted where there are reasonable grounds for refusal. Reasonable grounds for refusal of an application may include but are not limited to:

- where it is deemed that the change of provider would be detrimental to your personal and/or academic welfare;
- where the primary reason for your request is based on a personal preference such as wishing to experience living in another city in Australia, or wishing to live and/or study with friends enrolled at another registered provider – unless you can demonstrate that refusal would involve significant social and/or academic detriment;
- where the primary reason for your request is that the program in which you are enrolled has not met your expectations or requirements and the University offers an alternative program that meets your stated requirements;
- where you have not made a genuine attempt to participate in the program to which you have been granted admission (including a pre-university program); and
- where you owe tuition or other fees and charges to the University.

Application Refusal

If your application is refused you will be advised in writing of the reasons. You are entitled to seek a review of the decision if you choose. An Education Welfare Officer can assist you with this process. For more information, please see the University’s Complaints Policy at https://www.adelaide.edu.au/student/policies/complaints/.

VISA Information

It is your responsibility to ensure you remain compliant with your student visa conditions at all times, including during a change of education provider. If a Release Letter is approved, The University of Adelaide will notify the Department of Immigration and Border Protection (DIBP) that you are no longer studying with us. You must then contact DIBP with your new Confirmation of Enrolment (CoE) to ensure your student visa remains valid and is of sufficient length to cover your new program.
